TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I'm Spencer Dixon, I am a professional learner. Currently I am employed in a marketing content role at ExpertVoice, where my title is Interactive Designer.

I do a little bit of content strategy, a lot of design thinking, but I mostly build E-learning webpages for a number of large brands using conventional front end web-languages.

You should take a look at my resume, because though I am young and may not fit the job requirements exactly, I know that if given the chance, I will deliver.

Thanks for skimming :)
